Verified preparations, escalation signals, and fact checks

REVISION - CONTINUITY RESTORATION

Public-source awareness and planning brief. Not an official intelligence bulletin.

This revision is additive. The original 28-page October 7 issue is preserved unchanged after this supplement. A continuity audit found that 14 still-qualifying carry-forward records from the October 6 register had been omitted from the base October 7 register without evidence of resolution or window roll-off. They are restored below. One additional apparent omission, USA-FAIRFORD-B1-20261004, was a duplicate alias for the already retained USA-GBR-B1-20261004 event and is not duplicated here. The restoration is an editorial correction, not new escalation.

Fresh research recheck: 8:15 AM EDT to 8:55 AM EDT, October 7, America/Detroit. Reuters, NATO, the Council of the EU, the European Defence Agency, Moldova's Ministry of Defence, Romania's Ministry of National Defence, and Russian Foreign and Defence Ministry domains were searched. Reuters' Bulgaria rescue update, Moldova's October 7 airspace notice, EDA's OPEX schedule and EDA's testing-readiness release were opened or rechecked. No additional qualifying material development after the base issue cutoff was identified. Direct Russian official-domain searches did not produce a new broad mobilisation or operational nuclear-alert announcement. Search coverage remains public-source and non-exhaustive.

Register window remains: August 7, 2026, 12:00 AM EDT through October 7, 2026, 8:55 AM EDT for this revised edition. Event dates, not discovery dates, control inclusion. The 14 restored rows below are sorted by location, then event date, asset type and stable ID.

How to Read This Revision

The complete revised issue consists of this continuity-restoration supplement followed by the original October 7 issue. No original October 7 page is removed, rewritten or overwritten. For Section 5, read the base register together with the 14 restored records above. The restored records were qualifying within the two-calendar-month window and remained unresolved or otherwise relevant; their omission was editorial, not evidentiary.

All other findings, evidence classifications, leadership applications, dashboard judgments, reality checks, watch items and sources in the base issue remain in force unless this supplement explicitly changes them. The fresh recheck through 8:55 AM EDT found no new material event that required changing the base issue's bottom-line assessment.

Editorial correction rule applied: backfill and restored carry-forwards are not counted as new escalation. A source refresh does not reset an event date or material-change age.

Original October 7 issue begins on the next page.

Europe Readiness Daily

Verified preparations, escalation signals, and fact checks

Public-source awareness and planning brief. Not an official intelligence bulletin.

Europe Readiness Daily is published to support awareness and practical planning, not to create fear or suggest that war is inevitable. This edition covers NATO, the United States, the European Union and individual European allies, Russia and Belarus, plus directly relevant non-NATO European spillover, with emphasis on military readiness, exercises and mobilisation, industrial and logistical capacity, civil preparedness, nuclear signaling, cyber and sabotage, infrastructure, maritime and airspace incidents, force posture and diplomacy. Current-update coverage is October 6, 2026, 9:16 AM EDT through October 7, 2026, 8:15 AM EDT; the rolling two-calendar-month register covers August 7, 2026, 12:00 AM EDT through October 7, 2026, 8:15 AM EDT. Sources actually searched included NATO and SHAPE; the Council of the EU; the European Defence Agency; Bulgarian, Romanian, Moldovan, Latvian, Lithuanian, Estonian, Polish, Swedish, Finnish, German, French and UK government or defence sources; U.S. European Command and U.S. Army Europe-related sources; Russian Defence Ministry, Foreign Ministry and Kremlin domains; the Belarusian Defence Ministry domain; Reuters; Associated Press; BBC search results; and NIST. Material actually opened and reviewed included Moldova's October 7 Defence Ministry overflight notice; Reuters' October 7 Bulgarian rescue update and Kremlin response to France's M51.3 test; Bulgaria's October 6 Council of Ministers shipping statement; Romania's October 5 Interior Ministry rescue statement and Reuters follow-up; Reuters reporting on the October 6 Aframax Rio tanker incident; EDA's EU OPEX programme; Sweden's Patriot and Gripen releases carried from the prior issue; NATO's September 30 threat assessment; and current NIST continuity guidance. Direct Russian and Belarusian official-domain searches produced no qualifying accessible new broad mobilisation or verified operational nuclear-alert announcement. No substantive public outcome from the October 6 EU Hybrid Threats working-party meeting was located by the cutoff. Search coverage is broad but not exhaustive; inaccessible, unpublished and geographically limited reporting remains a gap.

It brings together publicly documented security developments and distinguishes verified events from official assessments, routine exercises, recycled reporting, and unverified claims. The purpose is to help readers, finance and operations leaders, and CEOs recognize relevant exposures, protect people and assets, maintain business continuity, and make informed budget and forecast decisions. Preparation should be proportionate to credible evidence and an organization's actual dependencies, not to the volume or intensity of alarming headlines. This is a public-source planning brief, not an official intelligence warning, and increased preparedness does not by itself establish that conflict is imminent.

1. Today's Bottom Line

Bulgaria halted the search for the missing crew of the Togo-flagged ALFA WATAN after the ship sank following the October 6 drone attack in Bulgaria's Black Sea exclusive economic zone. Reuters reports that rescue forces found a boat, three life rafts and ship parts but no sign of the sailors. Prime Minister Rumen Radev said the origin of the drones remained unclear, even as President Volodymyr Zelenskiy attributed the attack to Russia. Radev also said the government would approve the purchase of five additional surface-to-air missile systems. The current evidence therefore supports a real maritime-security and commercial-shipping disruption plus a planned Bulgarian air-defence response, while attribution remains unresolved in Bulgaria's public position.

Moldova recorded another unauthorized flight through national airspace this morning. Its Defence Ministry says the object entered at 08:43 local time and immediately left at 08:44 in the direction of Limanske, Ukraine, during large Russian strikes on Ukraine. The official notice confirms the airspace violation and the one-minute duration, but it does not identify the object type, operator or intent. The event adds to Moldova's spillover burden without establishing deliberate targeting of Moldova.

Sources: Moldova Defence Ministry

A continuity gap in the prior issue also requires correction. On October 5, the commercial vessel Royad Mammadov caught fire and sank in Romania's exclusive economic zone south of Sfantu Gheorghe. Romania says 11 crew were rescued and two people died; Romania did not publicly establish the cause in the primary rescue notice. Reuters reported that Ukraine attributed the incident to Russian drones, while a Russian Defence Ministry bulletin had separately said it struck two cargo vessels. The event belongs in the register with its October 5 event date and is not presented as new October 7 escalation.

Sources: Romanian Interior Ministry | Reuters

The Black Sea picture is broader than the Bulgaria and Romania incidents alone. Reuters reported that a Liberian-flagged tanker, Aframax Rio, was set ablaze off Russia's Black Sea coast on October 6 after an unmanned-vessel attack; all 23 crew members were rescued and no injuries were reported. The reviewed source does not establish the attacker. These separate cases justify closer attention to maritime insurance, routing and emergency-response conditions, but incomplete and uneven incident coverage means the brief does not infer an incidence trend from the small number of newly reported cases.

Sources: Reuters

The strongest current counterevidence to an imminent direct conventional NATO-Russia war remains NATO Secretary General Mark Rutte's September 30 statement that there was no imminent threat to NATO territory and that a major conventional move should be preceded by visible buildup. Russia's Kremlin criticized France's recent unarmed M51.3 acceptance test today, describing European defence policy as confrontational while also saying Moscow remained open to dialogue. That rhetoric is significant but does not establish a new Russian operational nuclear-alert state. Targeted searches also did not establish a broad new Russian or Belarusian mobilisation order or NATO Article 5 activation.

Dimension	Assessment	Confidence
Long-term NATO and European preparedness	High and strengthening	High
Near-term escalation and incident pressure	Elevated	Medium-high

Dimension	Assessment	Confidence
Nuclear signaling pressure	Elevated; no operational alert change established	High for rhetoric; source-limited for posture

These are analytical judgments based on public evidence, not official alert levels or numerical probabilities.

2. What Changed

NEW UPDATE - BGR-BLACKSEA-SHIPS-20261006

Bulgaria halted rescue operations for the missing ALFA WATAN crew. No survivors or drone debris were reported found. Prime Minister Radev said drone origin remained unclear and announced planned approval for five additional surface-to-air missile systems.

Sources: Reuters

NEW - MDA-AIR-20261007

Moldova confirmed an unauthorized national-airspace flight lasting roughly one minute, from 08:43 to 08:44 local time, exiting toward Limanske, Ukraine. Type, operator and intent were not established in the release.

Sources: Moldova Defence Ministry

CORRECTION / NEWLY REPORTED BACKGROUND - ROU-BLACKSEA-ROYAD-20261005

The October 5 Royad Mammadov fire and sinking in Romania's exclusive economic zone was absent from the prior report. It is added with its true event date: 11 rescued, two dead, one reported injured; Romania did not establish the cause in its primary rescue notice.

Sources: Romanian Interior Ministry | Reuters

NEWLY REPORTED BACKGROUND - RUS-BLACKSEA-AFRAMAX-20261006

Reuters reported an unmanned-vessel attack on the Liberian-flagged tanker Aframax Rio off Russia's Black Sea coast on October 6. All 23 crew were rescued and no injuries were reported. Exact attack attribution was not established in the reviewed report.

Sources: Reuters

NEW OFFICIAL RHETORIC - RUS-FRA-M51-RESP-20261007

The Kremlin criticized France's M51.3 test and said European defence identity was being built around confrontation with Russia. Peskov also said Russia was open to dialogue. The phrase that Russia 'remained on alert' is not treated as evidence of a new operational nuclear-alert state.

Sources: Reuters

SCHEDULED MILESTONE - EU-OPEX-20260925

EDA's published schedule places the cross-domain EU OPEX field experiments on October 7-8, followed by a high-visibility event on October 14. The schedule is confirmed; successful execution or performance is not inferred before results are published.

NO QUALIFYING BROAD MOBILISATION OR NUCLEAR ALERT

Targeted public-source searches did not establish a new Russian general mobilisation, broad Belarusian mobilisation, NATO-wide emergency mobilisation, Article 5 activation or verified operational nuclear-alert increase in the current reporting window.

3. Leadership Application: Prepare, Protect, Continue Operations, Plan Financially

Recurring method: map reported locations and affected assets to actual people, sites, suppliers, customers, logistics, utilities, banking and IT dependencies; identify critical functions and business impact; select protection and continuity options; translate demonstrated exposure into conditional scenarios; and assign owners with observable activation and stand-down triggers. News alone is not exposure. Actual authority, carrier, supplier, utility and service conditions govern operating decisions.

CHECK NOW - Black Sea commercial shipping

Event linkage: BGR-BLACKSEA-SHIPS-20261006 / ROU-BLACKSEA-ROYAD-20261005 / RUS-BLACKSEA-AFRAMAX-20261006

Organizations using Black Sea merchant shipping, Bulgarian or Romanian ports, marine insurance, grain routes, tanker routes or time-sensitive cargo should identify the shipments and customer commitments actually dependent on those lanes. Operating effects can arise from carrier avoidance, rescue or exclusion zones, insurance repricing, port restrictions or route extensions. Finance should separate freight and insurance cost, inventory timing, receivable timing and working-capital effects from permanent revenue loss. Owner: COO and supply-chain leadership with CFO/FP&A.; Trigger: carrier rerouting, insurer notice, port restriction, documented shipment delay or maritime-authority instruction. Tradeoff: pre-emptive diversion can raise cost and congestion if normal routes remain available.

Sources: Bulgaria rescue | Romania ship | Russia-side tanker

MONITOR - Moldova airspace

Event linkage: MDA-AIR-20261007

Organizations with Moldova aviation, employee travel or time-critical freight dependencies should check airport, carrier and authority notices rather than treating the one-minute overflight as an automatic operating interruption. The official notice establishes an unauthorized flight but no type, operator, damage or closure. Finance impact should remain zero in the base case unless a real service interruption occurs. Owner: local operations and travel/logistics. Trigger: airport closure, carrier cancellation, supplier delay or official safety restriction. Tradeoff: unnecessary rerouting adds cost without a demonstrated constraint.

Sources: Moldova Defence Ministry

PREPARE AN OPTION - Bulgarian air defence procurement

Event linkage: BGR-IAMD-PROC-20261007

Defence suppliers may treat Bulgaria's stated plan for five additional surface-to-air missile systems as an opportunity signal, not booked demand. Commercial teams should identify published procurement route, eligibility, funding and timing before incorporating revenue. CFO/FP&A; should distinguish an announced government intention from an approved contract, funded order and delivered system. Owner: strategy/commercial and CFO. Trigger: procurement notice, funded appropriation, contract award or customer commitment. Tradeoff: premature capacity or bid spending can consume cash without an executable order.

Sources: Reuters

PROTECT - Hybrid and continuity baseline

Event linkage: Standing hybrid-risk assessments

Maintain low-cost, reversible controls for critical European dependencies: privileged-access review, payment-change verification, tested backups, emergency contacts, backup communications and third-party recovery contacts. NIST business-impact guidance supports mapping mission-essential functions to the assets and systems that enable them, while CSF 2.0 treats cybersecurity governance as enterprise risk. Owner: CISO/security with COO and CFO. Trigger: relevant government or provider alert, failed recovery test, confirmed compromise or material service degradation. Tradeoff: expensive redundancy should follow a business-impact case, not geopolitical headlines alone.

Sources: NIST BIA | NIST CSF 2.0

NO BASE-CASE CHANGE WARRANTED - Nuclear and direct-war scenarios

Event linkage: RUS-FRA-M51-RESP-20261007 / NATO-RISK-20260930

Keep severe-disruption scenarios and executive decision rights current, but do not move direct-war assumptions into the base forecast solely because nuclear rhetoric intensified. A forecast revision should require an observable business transmission channel such as mobilisation, sanctions change, transport restriction, supplier shutdown, energy-price shock, insurance withdrawal or material force-posture change. Separate P&L;, balance-sheet and cash impacts and avoid double-counting revenue and margin loss. Owner: CEO, CFO/FP&A; and COO. Tradeoff: readiness is useful; false precision about war probability is not.

4. Verified Developments and Evidence Register

BGR-BLACKSEA-SHIPS-20261006 | Bulgaria halts rescue; attribution remains unresolved

Actor/location: Bulgaria, Black Sea exclusive economic zone east of Byala. Event: October 6; material update October 7. Stage: incident, rescue operation halted. Bulgaria confirmed two merchant ships were struck by aerial and maritime drones. On October 7 Reuters reported that the search for the missing ALFA WATAN crew was halted after no survivors were found; a boat, three life rafts and ship parts were recovered. Radev said the origin of the drones remained unclear and said the government would approve five additional surface-to-air missile systems. Evidence class: CONFIRMED ACTION OR DOCUMENT for incident and Bulgarian response; CREDIBLY REPORTED for the October 7 rescue halt and procurement statement. Occurrence confidence: very high. Attribution/intent confidence: unresolved. Zelenskiy attributes the attack to Russia; Bulgaria's public position did not confirm origin at cutoff. Imminent-war limit: serious maritime incident pressure, but no direct NATO-Russia war conclusion follows from EEZ location or unresolved attribution.

Sources: Bulgaria government | Reuters update

MDA-AIR-20261007 | Moldova reports one-minute unauthorized flight

Actor/location: Moldova national airspace, exiting toward Limanske, Ukraine. Event/publication date: October 7. Stage: incident ended; monitoring continues. Moldova's Defence Ministry says an unauthorized flight entered at 08:43 local and immediately exited at 08:44. Evidence class: CONFIRMED ACTION OR DOCUMENT. Occurrence confidence: very high. Attribution/intent confidence: unknown because the release does not identify the object type, operator or intent. Alternative: spillover or navigation/path deviation remains possible. Imminent-war limit: airspace violation is real, deliberate attack on Moldova is not established.

Sources: Moldova Defence Ministry

ROU-BLACKSEA-ROYAD-20261005 | Romania merchant-ship sinking added as correction

Actor/location: Romania exclusive economic zone, about 30 nautical miles south of Sfantu Gheorghe. Event date: October 5. Stage: rescue completed; cause unresolved in Romanian primary notice. Romanian authorities reported a commercial-vessel fire and sinking, 11 crew rescued and two dead; Reuters reported one rescued crew member injured. Ukraine attributed the event to Russian drones, while Romania's primary rescue statement did not establish the cause. Evidence class: CONFIRMED ACTION OR DOCUMENT for fire, rescue and deaths; OFFICIAL CLAIM/ASSESSMENT for Ukrainian attribution. Occurrence confidence: very high. Attribution/intent confidence: unresolved. This was omitted from the October 6 brief and is added with its true date; it is not new October 7 escalation.

Sources: Romanian Interior Ministry | Reuters

RUS-BLACKSEA-AFRAMAX-20261006 | Tanker crew rescued after unmanned-vessel attack

Actor/location: Russia, Black Sea coast near Sirius/Krasnodar region. Event date: October 6. Stage: fire brought under control; crew rescued. Reuters, citing Russian authorities, reported that the Liberian-flagged tanker Aframax Rio was set ablaze by an unmanned-vessel attack; all 23 crew members were rescued and no injuries were reported. Evidence class: CREDIBLY REPORTED, NOT INDEPENDENTLY CONFIRMED. Occurrence confidence: high for the reported rescue and fire. Attribution/intent confidence: attacker not established in the reviewed report. Relevance: adds to commercial-maritime risk in the wider Black Sea without supporting a single-attribution narrative across incidents.

Sources: Reuters

BGR-IAMD-PROC-20261007 | Bulgaria says it will approve five additional air-defence systems

Actor/location: Bulgaria, national defence procurement. Announcement date: October 7. Stage: announced/planned; exact system, value, contracting path and delivery schedule not public in the reviewed report. Reuters reported Prime Minister Radev saying the government would approve five additional surface-to-air missile systems after the Black Sea incident. Evidence class: CREDIBLY REPORTED GOVERNMENT INTENT. Confidence: high that the statement was made. Imminent-war limit: procurement intent strengthens readiness but does not establish immediate fielding or expected imminent conflict.

Sources: Reuters

RUS-FRA-M51-RESP-20261007 | Kremlin criticizes French M51.3 test while invoking dialogue

Actor/location: Russia, Kremlin response to France. Date: October 7. Stage: official rhetoric. Reuters reports Peskov called France's recent missile test part of a dead-end anti-Russia strategy and said Europe was building a defence identity around confrontation with Russia, while also saying Russia remained open to dialogue. Evidence class: OFFICIAL CLAIM/ASSESSMENT through Reuters. Confidence: high that remarks were made. Nuclear limit: the statement that Russia remained on alert is not treated as evidence of a new operational nuclear-alert change. Alternative: coercive messaging and political signaling can coexist with dialogue.

Sources: Reuters | French DGA original test

EU-OPEX-20260925 | Cross-domain experiments reach scheduled October 7-8 window

Actor/location: EDA / Portugal, Santa Margarida. Campaign: September 28-October 14; cross-domain field experiments scheduled October 7-8. Stage: scheduled experimentation window. EDA says the campaign tests unmanned systems, reconnaissance, logistics and other technologies with military users. Evidence class: CONFIRMED DOCUMENTED SCHEDULE. Confidence: very high for the schedule. Limit: no performance, procurement, delivery or fielding outcome is inferred before a result is published. Imminent-war implication: low; structural readiness relevance high.

United States standing posture

No new unilateral U.S. Europe-wide force-posture decision was established in the current search window. Existing rotations, the specific Fairford B-1 relocation already recorded, and allied activities remain the public baseline. This is source-limited and does not prove that no internal decision exists.

Russia and Belarus standing posture

Targeted searches of Russian Defence Ministry, Russian Foreign Ministry, Kremlin and Belarusian Defence Ministry domains did not establish a new broad Russian mobilisation, broad Belarusian mobilisation or verified operational nuclear-alert increase in the current reporting window. This is a public-source finding and provides no visibility into classified orders.

5. Rolling Two-Month Location and Event Register

Inclusive window: August 7, 2026, 12:00 AM EDT through October 7, 2026, 8:15 AM EDT. This is a maintained public-source register, not an exhaustive incident census. Entries are sorted by normalized location, underlying event date, target or affected asset type and stable ID. Exercises, warnings, procurement, deployments, diplomacy and actual incidents remain separate event kinds and are not combined into an attack count. Repeated coverage does not reset event dates. Undated disclosures are identified as such rather than inserted into precise chronological counts.

Mobilisation	None established	No broad new Russian, Belarusian or NATO mobilisation established. Exercise-specific reservist activity remains distinct.	Source-limited	Formal decree, mass reserve activation, operational deployment
Industry / logistics	Oct 7	Black Sea commercial-shipping risk remains elevated; Bulgarian air-defence procurement intent adds a capability-demand signal.	High for incidents; high for announced intent	Carrier/insurer changes, port restrictions, procurement notice or contract
Air / missile / nuclear	Oct 7	Moldova reports a one-minute unauthorized overflight. Kremlin rhetoric follows France's unarmed M51.3 test. No verified operational nuclear-alert change.	Very high for Moldova occurrence; high for rhetoric	Object identification, repeated attributed violations, authoritative alert-state change
Civil defence / resilience	Oct 6-7	Baltic and Polish preparedness measures remain standing context; NIST-style continuity controls remain appropriate for real dependencies.	High	After-action findings, shelter/medical implementation, warning-system changes
Hybrid / sabotage / incidents	Oct 7	Black Sea incidents and airspace spillover sustain elevated incident pressure; attribution varies materially by event.	High for occurrence; mixed for attribution	Forensic attribution, criminal evidence, destructive cyber effects, sustained service interruption
Diplomacy / strategic signaling	Oct 7	Kremlin criticizes French test but says it remains open to dialogue; NATO's no-imminent-threat assessment remains standing counterevidence.	High for statements	Formal arms-control talks, incident-prevention mechanism, revised NATO assessment

7. Reality Check and Corrections

Claim: Bulgaria has confirmed Russia attacked the two ships in its exclusive economic zone.

Assessment: Not established. Bulgaria confirmed the drone attacks and operational consequences, but Prime Minister Radev said the origin of the drones remained unclear as of the October 7 Reuters update. Ukrainian officials attribute the incident to Russia. Occurrence and attribution must remain separate.

Sources: Reuters

Claim: Bulgaria's decision to buy five additional air-defence systems means they are already funded, contracted and deployed.

Assessment: Incorrect. Reuters reports a government intention to approve five additional surface-to-air missile systems. Exact system, procurement route, value, contract status and delivery timing were not established in the reviewed source.

Sources: Reuters

Claim: Moldova identified the October 7 overflight as a Russian drone attack.

Assessment: Not established. Moldova's official notice confirms an unauthorized flight for about one minute but does not identify object type, operator or intent.

Sources: Moldova Defence Ministry

Claim: The Romanian Royad Mammadov sinking is new October 7 escalation.

Assessment: Incorrect. The event occurred October 5 and is being added today because it was omitted from the prior issue. Backfill is not new escalation.

Sources: Romanian Interior Ministry | Reuters

Claim: The Kremlin's statement that Russia remains on alert proves a new nuclear operational-alert increase.

Assessment: Not established. The reviewed Reuters report describes rhetoric responding to France's M51.3 test and does not document a new alert-state order, warhead movement or launch readiness change.

Sources: Reuters

Claim: Several Black Sea ship incidents prove an accelerating attack trend.

Assessment: Not established from this brief. The incidents are individually important, but comparable denominators and complete incident coverage are not available. Reporting volume and newly discovered background are not incidence growth by themselves.

Assessment-changing observables

A formal Russian general mobilisation with implementation evidence; large Belarusian mobilisation; NATO Article 4 or Article 5 action tied to a new attack; verified Russian, U.S., French or NATO nuclear operational-alert change; repeated airspace violations with reliable operator and intent evidence; destructive sabotage or cyber activity with forensic state attribution; major exercise forces retained beyond announced schedules without routine explanation; or a formal ceasefire, military hotline, incident-prevention mechanism or arms-control agreement.

9. Balanced Close, Reading Legend and Sources

The strongest immediate operating-risk evidence is the cluster of verified Black Sea commercial-shipping incidents, especially the Bulgarian ship attack and rescue closure and the October 5 Romanian commercial-vessel sinking. These developments can affect routing, insurance, cargo timing and emergency response even when state attribution remains unresolved. Moldova's new one-minute unauthorized overflight adds to the airspace-spillover burden, but the official notice does not identify operator or intent.

Sources: Reuters Bulgaria update | Romania ship sources | Moldova Defence Ministry

The strongest structural-readiness evidence remains continuing eastern-flank air and missile defence, scheduled EU OPEX experimentation, national civil-defence exercises and defence-industrial capacity work. The strongest counterevidence to imminent direct conventional NATO-Russia war remains the absence in searched public sources of a broad new mobilisation, Article 5 activation or verified operational nuclear-alert change, together with NATO's September 30 public statement that there was no imminent threat to Alliance territory. Increased readiness and repeated incidents therefore warrant proportionate continuity preparation without supporting a conclusion that direct war is imminent.

Sources: EDA OPEX | NATO

Supported interpretation through the 8:15 AM EDT cutoff: European preparedness remains high and strengthening. Black Sea maritime, airspace and hybrid incident pressure is elevated. Some localized events create real operating and financial exposure. Public evidence of imminent direct conventional NATO-Russia conflict remains limited.

Reading legend

CONFIRMED ACTION OR DOCUMENT: Directly supported by an authoritative source. An official document can confirm that a government made an allegation without independently proving that allegation.

CREDIBLY REPORTED, NOT INDEPENDENTLY CONFIRMED: Strong original or transparent reporting exists, but primary or independent confirmation is incomplete.

OFFICIAL CLAIM/ASSESSMENT: It is verified that an official or institution made the statement; the underlying attribution, intent or forecast can remain unproven.

ANALYSIS: Interpretation of verified or attributed evidence, not an official alert.

UNVERIFIED: Available evidence is insufficient to establish the claim. Unverified does not mean false.

DISPROVEN OR MISLEADING: Evidence contradicts the claim or shows event date, stage, geography, attribution or intent has been materially conflated.

Date and confidence conventions: Event date is when the underlying activity occurred. Publication date is when it was reported. Last material update is not a simple source recheck. Confidence describes what public evidence establishes, not a numerical probability of war. Preparedness is not imminence.
